

2013 VISION QUEST INTENSIVE

Monday, August 19 - Thursday, August 22, 2012

PASSION COMPASSION IMPASSION

CARITAS HEALING ARTS

The Vision Quest is a powerful journey and ritual for renewal and transformation of your life. The process of the Vision Quest prepares you to physically, emotionally, and mentally face your self to gain inner knowledge, clarity of purpose, and wisdom of the heart.

The Vision Quest Intensive entails isolation and detachment from your daily life; personal and group preparation time; three days of physical solitude and prayer, called “crying for a vision”; a physical cleansing through fasting during your time alone; a ceremony and ritual to begin the integration of your vision into your life.

Throughout time, humanity has sought out the solitude and silence of nature to seek direction and guidance. Though the Vision Quest is often associated with the Native American tradition, it is actually a cornerstone of spiritual cultures throughout the world.

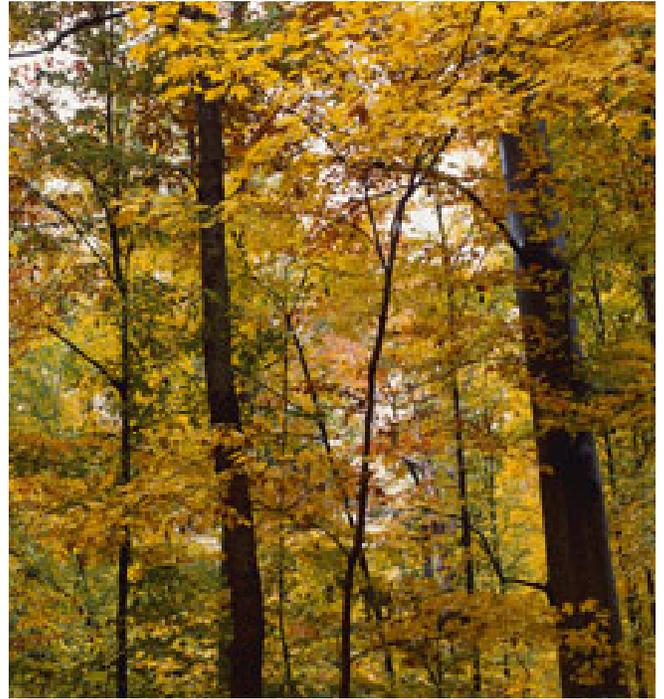

The purposes for embarking on a Vision Quest can be as varied as the individuals who come. Traditionally, vision quests are held to honor and seek assistance with the common transitions in every community: birth, death, marriage, puberty, divorce, etc. Put simply, vision quests are about change: letting go of the old and outmoded, reforming and embracing the new. What the vision quest realizes is that change comes not just from within ourselves, but with the help, healing, and guidance of Spirit/God within and beyond us. Whatever challenges, crises, and questions that you may bring to the Vision Quest will be uniquely your own, and will be based on what you are facing in your life, and the connection you desire to have with Spirit/God to help you.
